

Scent Work Seminar
With AKC Scent Work Judges: Silke Satzinger & Beverly McGhghy
Saturday, October 21, 2017
10 a.m. to 4 p.m. (Lunch Provided)
All Dog Adventures – Richmond, VA

Have you heard?! The American Kennel Club is now offering a new titling event called Scent Work! What is Scent Work? How does one get started? What is involved with competing? What are the rules? What other venues are available for doing scent work? What are the differences / similarities? Have a question of your own that you'd like to ask an AKC Scent Work Judge? Come find the answers to these questions and more. See demonstrations and scoring explained. This is an information seminar, not a "how to" or training seminar.

AKC - CGCU/CGCA/CGC/STAR Puppy-Evaluator,
Scent Work Judge
UKC - SPOT Evaluator, Rally/Obedience Judge

Since 1998, Silke Satzinger has placed AKC & UKC titles on her Doberman Pinschers in Obedience, Rally Obedience, and Conformation. After placing numerous Rally Obedience titles on her dogs, she became a Rally Obedience Judge with the United Kennel Club. With regards to K9 Nose Work, Silke was the 1st one in the VA Beach area that got involved and started to teach classes after she titled her dogs with NACSW (National Association of Canine Scent Work). She recently earned her NW3 Elite Title.

"I learn by training my dogs at every opportunity I get. By doing so, I find different techniques of training and I can share this experience in my classes and seminars. Every dog is unique and not all of them learn the same way or at the same rate. Knowing that helps me to adjust my methods to the individual dogs and owners. My favorite classes I like to teach are STAR Puppy, and the newest kid on the block, K9 NOSE/SCENT WORK."

Since 1985, Beverly McGhghy has placed a number of performance titles on a variety of breeds over the years in Obedience, Rally Obedience, Agility, Lure Coursing, and Nosework. After pursuing nosework classes with her Manchester Terrier "Riley" under instructor, Silke Satzinger, at Hampton Roads Obedience Training Club, she and Riley were hooked! They attended several class sessions and supplemented with seminars with Jacy Kelley (an instructor with National Association of Canine Scent Work (NACSW), and training with Tony Gravley, a former bomb dog trainer who currently trains dogs for law enforcement. Since their first Odor Recognition Test (ORT) in 2013, Beverly and Riley are now at the NW3 Elite level.

Beverly is excited to become an AKC Scent Work Judge so that she can contribute to furthering the scent work dog sport. "It is true teamwork between the dog and handler, and I truly enjoy seeing that "Aha!" moment when the dog crosses into scent."
